sometimes detail with detail, it may be so perfect for you and your life. That was all right, for she had done the same for Otter's elder sister, and so his parents sent down again and tried to hold still. The spellbonds around his chest kept him from breathing. "Hu-hu-hu," said the owl, under her window, and then it said, "Darkrose!" Startled from her. Diamond had no idea what to say. The idea of its being up to him had not occurred to him. "Do you think I ought to?" he asked at last. man cowered away, shrinking down, shriveling, crying out in a thin, high wail. It is wrong, wrong. Otter knew that a moment was coming when he might get free of Gelluk: of that he had been sure since last night. He knew also that in that same moment he might defeat Gelluk, disempower him, if the wizard, driven by his visions, forgot to guard himself-and if Otter could learn his name. She was looking down at her hands, clasped now on her knees. In the faint reddish glow of the. In about 650, the sisters Elehal and Yahan of Roke, Medra the Finder, and other people of the Hand founded a school on Roke as a center where they might gather and share knowledge, clarify the disciplines, and exert ethical control over the practices of wizardry. With the Hand as its agent on other islands, the school's reputation and influence grew rapidly. The mage Teriel of Havnor, perceiving the school as a threat to the uncontrolled individual power of the mages, came with a great fleet to destroy it. He was destroyed, and his fleet scattered. His humble teachers had taught him all the words they knew of the Language of the Making. Among them had been neither the name of semen nor the name of quicksilver. But his lips parted, his tongue moved. "Ayezur" he said. It took him six more days to get through the big herds in the eastern marshes. The last two days on thinking the ordinary thoughts of life, while the rest of it made preparations for terror and though I did not know whether they were mirrored reflections of this one or reality -- letters of oldest and greatest ones, a mystery. Ember was on the dock to meet him. Lame and very thin, he came to her and took her hands, but he with the pines. Some good wood for furniture could be salvaged from them. That truly floored her. For the first time she looked at me as if I were a creature from. "I can protect you here, and have done so. On Roke, of course, you'll be perfectly safe. The very walls, there... But if you go home, you must be willing to protect yourself. It's a difficult thing for a young man, very difficult -- a test of a will that has not yet been steeled, a mind that has not yet seen its true goal. I very strongly advise that you not take that risk. Write your parents, and go to the Great Port, or to Roke. Half your year's fee, which I'll return to you, will see to your first expenses." stylized conches were shooting forth, while above them raced the words INFOR INFOR INFOR. not as a statement but with intention to act, reinforced by voice and gesture-in a spell-does the. was some sniggering and shushing. Rose nodded. have great gifts? Still no one paid attention to them, as if a charm of protection were on them. They walked down the winding stairs, out of the tower, past the barracks, away from the mines. They walked through thin woodlands towards the foothills that hid Mount Onn from the lowlands of Samory. too clever; that's good. Not too clever to learn, like some... I'll teach you, if you like. "Mages can do more than that," the girl said. me -- aircraft, probably, because now and then they veered up or down, spiraling into space, so. made little spots of mud, little sticky spots. movement of my nostrils, my heart working slowly, pumping blood; lights flickered in the low. For a long time nobody would touch him. He had fallen down in a fit in San's doorway. He lay there now like a dead man. But the curer from the south said he wasn't dead, and was as dangerous as an adder. San told how Otak had put a curse on Sunbright and said some awful words that made him get smaller and smaller and wail like a stick in the fire, and then all in a moment he was back in himself again, but sick as a dog, as who could blame him, and all the while there was this light around the other one, Otak, like a wavering fire, and shadows jumping, and his voice not like any human voice. A terrible thing. "If you share his power he won't harm you. To fear a power, to fight a power, is very dangerous. an eye for beauty, and liked to look at the old house dreaming away in the dappled light of the. At the wizards touch he did not feel the horror of the spellbond, but rather a gift of. Knowledge of these places and powers was the heart of religion in the Kargad Realm. In the Archipelago, the lore of the Old Powers was still part of the profound, common basis of thought and reverence. On all the islands, the arts mostly practiced by witches, such as midwifery, healing, animal husbandry, dousing, mining and metallurgy, planting and growing spells, love spells, and so on, often invoked or drew upon the Old Powers. But the learned wizards of Roke had generally come to distrust the ancient practices and made no appeal to the "Powers of the Mother." Only in Paln did wizards combine the two practices, in the arcane, esoteric, and reputedly dangerous Pelnish Lore. "Get the sail down," Medra said, peremptory. The master yawned and cursed and began to shout commands. The crewmen got up slowly and slowly began to rake the awkward sail in, and the oarmaster, after asking several questions of the master and Medra, began to roar at the slaves and stride among them rousing them right and left with his knotted rope. The sail was half down, the sweeps half manned, Medra's staying spell half spoken, when the witchwind struck. He looked up into the darkness. After a while he moved his good hand a little, and the faint light flowed out of it. There is no doubt that so great a mage as Morred was a husband and father. "And I in my tower," said the Namer. "And you, Herbal, and the Doorkeeper, are in the trap, in the Great House. The walls we built to keep all evil out. Or in, as the case may be." The wind had come up again. They were both shivering, their teeth chattering. They stood face to. were dozens of ships like ours. The moving platform made a turn, accelerated, continued to. Through that link he could send his own strength, the Mountain's strength, to help. Otter had to beg and wheedle him for any further teaching. The great scholar-mage Ath compiled a lore-book that brought together much scattered knowledge, particularly of the words of the Language of the Making. His Book of Names became the foundation of naming as a systematic part of the art magic. Ath left his book with a fellow mage on Pody when he went into the west, sent by the king to defeat or drive back a brood of dragons who had been stampeding cattle, setting fires, and destroying farms all through the western isles. Somewhere west of Ensmer, Ath confronted the great dragon Orm. Accounts of this meeting vary; but though after it the dragons ceased their hostilities for a while, it is certain that Orm survived it, and Ath did not. His book, lost for centuries, is now in the

The note was signed with.Palace, rotting, while six warlords quarreled over his kingdom, and the ships of the great fleet.When he got up at last, he wondered how old he was, and looked at his hands and arms to see if he was seventy. He still looked forty, though he felt seventy and moved like it, wincing. He got his clothes on, foul as they were from days and days of travel. There was a pair of shoes under the chair, worn but good, strong shoes, and a pair of knit wool stockings to go with them. He put the stockings on his battered feet and limped into the kitchen. Emer stood at the big sink, straining something heavy in a cloth.."Oh, no, you're not, Master Otak. While you were out in the east range a sorcerer curer came by, a fellow that's been here before, from the south coast, and so San hired him. You work for me and you'll be paid well.
